"The best way to find yourself is to lose yourself in the service of others."

November 8, 2018

Dear St. Stan's Families:

Since we had the opportunity, today, to honor our Veteran of the Year, Ms. Rita Salgado, and all veterans who selflessly served our country, I hope our students see this model of service and grow to appreciate service as a way to honor our Catholic faith.

We have a jam packed November starting next week with parent/teacher conferences on Thursday and Friday, November 15th and 16th. A separate sheet with some quick information on those days has been sent out. A parent/teacher conference is an amazing way to join forces in your child's education and strongly encourage you to take the time to come in and meet with your child's teacher and share information with one another that will help your child be successful and continue to grow. Please remember our first marking period comes to an end on Friday, November 9th.

Our classes are also collecting non perishable items for Thanksgiving baskets that will be distributed to families in our parish who are less fortunate than ourselves. I ask that you please send in the requested item by November 16th so we can have our baskets ready for distribution before Thanksgiving.

On Monday, November 19th, we will have picture retakes for any one who needs one.

Finally, please remember that November 21st is our last school day before our mini Thanksgiving break. It is an early dismissal and we do NOT offer aftercare that day. I hope to see you all next week at conferences!

In His Peace,

Elena Malinconico
